Broadspire Selects Valley Oak's iVOS Application for Casualty Claim Management System offers comprehensive solution to meet client needs

PLANTATION, Fla., and SAN RAMON, Calif. (March 28, 2006) – Broadspire Services, a Platinum Equity company that is a premier provider of casualty claims, medical management and integrated disability management services, announced today that it has chosen iVOS® from Valley Oak Systems as the company's new casualty claim system.

Broadspire's executive and information technology teams evaluated a number of potential claims systems and chose iVOS based on its ability to offer the most comprehensive solution for 245 clients who receive workers' compensation and auto and general liability claims services from the TPA. iVOS will replace multiple Broadspire systems and ultimately consolidate claim intake, claim administration, billing, reporting, financial and managed care functionality into a single platform.

"After careful consideration, iVOS was deemed our best option based on ease and speed of implementation, ability to best meet our clients' needs and integration with other critical functions," Broadspire President and CEO Dennis Replogle said. "We wanted the most efficient system for our team and, most importantly, our clients."

iVOS' simplified, intuitive environment is among the numerous features expected to increase efficiency for Broadspire customers. The system also provides effective solutions for a number of other client concerns including improved workflow automation, increased reporting capabilities and customization features to meet specific business needs.

"In addition to the impressive capabilities and flexibility offered by iVOS, its ease of implementation gives our team the opportunity to deliver a fully functional enterprise system in a relatively short time," said Broadspire Senior Vice President and CIO Patrick Funck.

"Our one-system approach is well aligned with Broadspire's goal to consolidate its claims-processing platform. We believe this partnership of innovative technology and Broadspire's impressive team of claims experts will deliver the services and performance to stand out in today's competitive market," said Randy Wheeler, CEO of Valley Oak Systems.
